BUZZ

The tap scene continues to grow and amaze, and a trio from a troupe called Sole Defined put on the coolest number of the night.

-Washington Post, Velocity DC Festival

Johnson's choreography is lithe, playful, and intelligent, well-executed little twist in the middle of Uncle Cory's Secret Playtime. The night I saw it, made everyone in the room gasp with delight.

Johnson's entrance is quite sneaky, but brings a fresh take to the piece as she tap dances her way through communicating with the pair. She skillfully mimics the melody of the Jack in the Box music through tap.

-DC Metro Theater Arts, Source Festival

"Quynn Johnson's tap dance is a metaphor for the thunder. And also kind of abstract expression of the emotional turmoil that's going on inside of the characters."

-Metro Weekly, The Great Gatsby by The Washington Ballet

"Quynn Johnson's heated tap dancing actually signifies the ongoing calamity of those caught in the dangerous love square within the plot. It was unprecedented, conceptual, and a breath of fresh air."

-The Pink Line Project, The Great Gatsby by The Washington Ballet

"Tap specialty energetically performed by Quynn Johnson."

-The Maryland Theater Guide, The Great Gatsby by The Washington Ballet

"In 'Aya,' Quynn Johnson had a deliciously buoyant movement quality and a natural, organic musicality, as if the beat were rolling up and out of every limb."

-Washington Post, Tapping, Spotlight The Art of Footwork

Biography

Performing Artist. Teaching Artist. Author.

Quynn Johnson, a graduate of Howard University in Washington, D.C., is a native of Flint, Michigan. Ms. Johnson has studied dance under masters of Tap and West African dance. She's most recently toured as the featured tap soloist in the Tony Award Winning Broadway Production, After Midnight.

Ms. Johnson, a multi-award winning performing artist, has been described as having a "deliciously buoyant movement quality and a natural organic rhythm." In 2014, she won the Individual Artist Award for Dance Choreography from the Maryland State Arts Council. Quynn's newest production, SOLE Defined (co-created with Ryan Johnson) is a show with incredible fusion of tap dance and body percussion. SOLE Defined has been presented at the Italy World Children's Festival, Jacobs Pillow, The John F. Kennedy Center Millennium Stage, and Dance Encore Festival in Quebec, Canada.

Quynn was a featured soloist in The Washington Ballet production of "The Great Gatsby" at The Kennedy Center and at The Source Festival. She has also performed at The Lincoln Center on Broadway, in Cirque du Soliel's "Mosaic" production in Washington, D.C., the National Tap Extravaganza in New York, Tapology Festival for Youth, the International Festival del Folklorico in Buenaventura, Colombia, and the Festival del Pacifico in Cali, Colombia. In addition, Quynn has toured Peru as part of the International Festival de Cajon

Peruano. Ms. Johnson has several national awards in recognition for her choreography and was named the #1 Tap Choreographer for youth 12 and under, by the state of Maryland in 2006.

In 2011, Quynn became a self-published author of her first children's book "Lucky's Tap Dancing Feet," an exciting story about a horse who wants to learn how to tap dance. Lucky's Tap Dancing Feet premiered to sold out audiences in 2013 & 2014 at the INTERSECTIONS Festival in Washington, DC.

Teaching Artist

Award-winning Tap dancer and choreographer, Quynn Johnson enjoys sharing her love for the performing arts through school assemblies and residencies. Each 45-minute assembly is an interactive and rhythmic performance showcasing the traditions and history of tap dance with Quynn's fast paced footwork. The school residency also 45-minutes, offers students a deeper connection to the art of tap dance while reinforcing academics.

Assembly: Where's Your Rhythm?

This assembly shares Quynn's personal journey through tap dance. The interactive and rhythmic performance shares the traditions and history of the American art form of tap dance with Quynn's personal journey of perseverance to overcome challenges through dance. The performance combines dance and music with storytelling to inspire and impact students through rhythmic expression.

Grade level: 1-12

Connections: Math, Dance, and Movement

Residency: Where's Your Rhythm?

Students enjoy learning ways to creating their own rhythm with tap dance. Students learn basic tap steps and explore the elements of dance and music. Team building and collaboration are important principles within the residency. As a group, students will showcase their own choreography in a culminating performance at their school.

Grade level: 1-12

Connections: Math, Dance, and Movement

Arts Integrated Residency: Where's Your Rhythm 2.0

In this workshop, participants will learn ways to connect reading and literacy to tap dance and basic elements of dance. Participants will learn how to use tap dance and its principles to enhance the meaning of literary text.

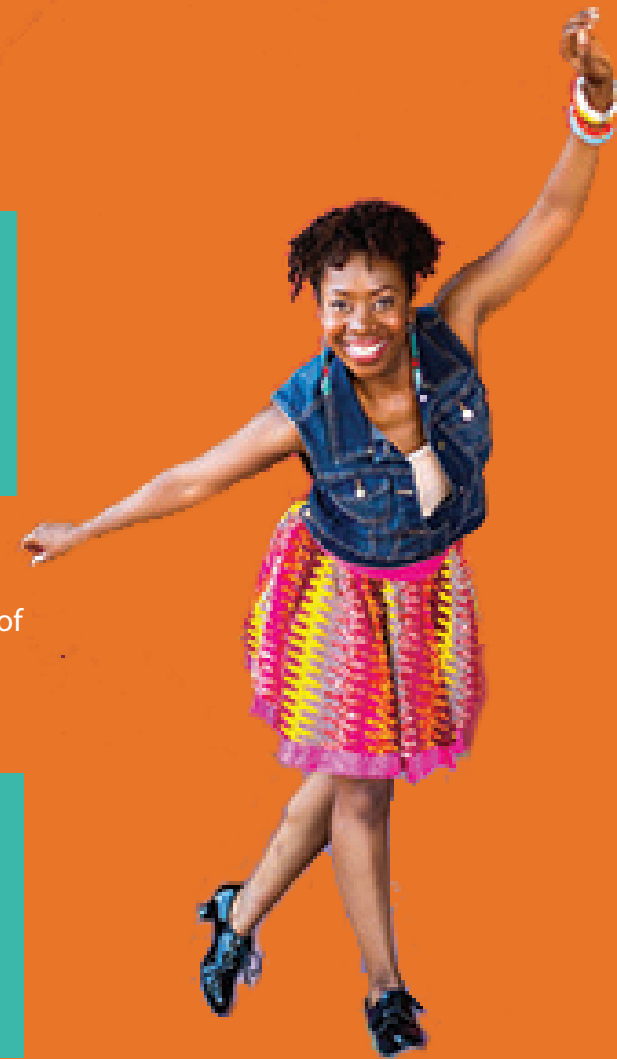

Grade level: 1-8th

Connections: Reading, Dance, and Movement

Embedded Professional Development

The purpose of this workshop is to show how the art form of tap dance and its use of beat and rhythm can be integrated with reading. Tap dance has the ability to communicate and express meaning by creating beats and rhythms. When these tools are integrated into the classroom, students will be able to create physical and personal connections to what they're reading.

Target Audience - School teachers grades k-12
