

QUYNN JOHNSON

AUTHOR + TEACHING ARTIST + PERFORMER

Quynn Johnson is an award-winning performing artist best known for her innovative fusion of tap dance, education, and artistry. Quynn is passionate about working with children of all ages. As a performer, Quynn has presented tap dance nationally and internationally including: The John F. Kennedy Center, Lincoln Center on Broadway and International Festivals in Peru and Colombia. As a teaching artist, Quynn explores ways to use dance as a form of positive self expression to empower and inspire creativity. In addition to teaching tap, Quynn teaches tolerance and self respect through her self-published children's book, Lucky's Tap Dancing Feet. The book comes to life through Lucky Live! a 45-minute interactive show with live tap, projection, and student participation that shares the story of a horse who wants to tap dance, but with four huge feet, faces many challenges!

SCHOOL ASSEMBLY: Tap LIVE!
